Do yourself a favour
With the fire in your mind
Burn down the walls
Spread your arms and fly
In time your wings are broken
With the liars on the ground
They're always obstructed
They ordered me, they ordered me
They ordered me to remember
Memories of when we first met
And you said 'hello hello'
How could I forget?
The rest of them, they don't understand
The rest of them, they don't understand
Been watching sleep and,
You look stressed out tonight

What is that you're dreaming?
You look stressed out tonight
You're always obstructed
You're always obstructed
They ordered me, they ordered me
They ordered me to remember
Memories of when we first met
And you said 'hello hello'
How could I forget?
The rest of them, they don't understand
The rest of them, they don't understand
They ordered me, they ordered me
They ordered me to remember
Memories of when we first met
And you said 'hello hello'
How could I forget?
The rest of them, they don't understand
The rest of them, they don't understand
