

Gravity

10 Years

I feel my fingers losing grip with every grain of sand
I watch the walls crack and shift as everything slips through my hands
Can't let go, won't let go
Holding on to emptiness and all that could have been
A manifested hopelessness as everything begins to end
Can't let go, won't let go

Take everything away that brings me to my knees, it's killing me
Till nothing remains and I am finally free, this gravity
It's killing me, this gravity, this gravity, it's killing me

Chemicals, let me go
Beaten with a bloody fist to make the pieces fit
Is this a gift or kiss of death
Cursed with this killer from within?
Can't let go, let me go

Take everything away that brings me to my knees, it's killing me
Till nothing remains and I am finally free
Into the ground, it's dragging me
Pulling me all the way down
Take everything away and bury this gravity

I feel my fingers losing grip with every grain of sand
Holding onto emptiness and all that could have been

Trying to escape this
Time and time again
Dying to be weightless
I am caving in

Take everything away that brings me to my knees, it's killing me
Till nothing remains and I am finally free from this gravity
Into the ground, it's dragging me
Pulling me all the way down
Take everything away and bury this gravity
