

I spoke too soon, but you hung the moon
And don't even have a clue
Bright eyes stay tucked away
Deep inside your golden age safety suit
Your golden age safety suit of youth

A little rule, a little sway
To navigate though your maze
Of love and pain
We bond and break
Though love and pain,
We bond and break

So rain down on my head (my head, my head)
When the sky cracks open (sky cracks open)
And your pain comes
Let the flood run though my lungs
When the rain comes
I'll bleed the sun, (the sun)
When the rain comes

So now I see you're free from me
I wait patiently for you to breathe

So rain down on my head (my head, my head)
When the sky cracks open (sky cracks open)
And your pain comes
Let the flood run though my lungs
When the rain comes
I'll bleed the sun, (the sun)
When the rain comes
