

Do I live, do I die, from the heart or the mind
It's hard to walk the line between each side
If I lose my faith have I sealed my fate
Answers change but the questions stay the same
On and on, who's right and wrong
Comes down to which side you're on

We're going nowhere
Nowhere too fast

We hear the same frequency
But what are you trying to say
'Cause we feel the same energy
But what are you dying to be
'Cause nothing is ever what it seems

I searched for a face in this masquerade
The names may change but the story stays the same
On and on, who's right and wrong
Comes down to which side you're on

We're going nowhere
Nowhere too fast

We hear the same frequency
But what are you trying to say
'Cause we feel the same energy
But what are you dying to be
'Cause nothing is ever what it...

Seems to be, I'm losing my reflection
Erased and replaced by the face of a phantom

We hear the same frequency
But what are you trying to say
'Cause we feel the same energy
But what are you dying to be
We're lost in the space
Between who we are
And all that we're trying to be
Nothing's forever
Nothing is ever what it seems
