

Twice

12 Rods

Catch stance on our very last dance
Always turning up a level
Who knocks at my bathroom door?
It's always you, but it's never the same way twice

Throwing rice at the gates of the saint
Who composed all the morals
Don't forget what for
This open road's horizon

Who's driving me to San José?
Always you
But it's never the same way twice
Living by the rite of change
You say you love me
But never the same way twice

We almost got caught hanging out on a valentine's
Now I'm flying to Ohio
I can't say what I did those nights
But I can say that they're not gonna happen twice

Paradise is a place of arrival we don't want to escape from
Now we're numb
Just say you love me
But not like you said last night

Who's driving me to San José?
Always you
But it's never the same way twice
Living by the rite of change
Just say you love me
But not like you said...

Who's driving me to San José?
(Paradise is a place of arrival we don't want to escape from)
Living by the rite of change
(Don't forget what for
This open road's horizon)

Who's driving me to San José?
Always you
But it's never the same way twice
Living by the rite of change
You say you love me
But never the same...

Who's driving me to San José?
(Paradise is a place of arrival
We don't want to escape from)
Living by the rite of change
(Don't forget what for
This open road's horizon)
Catch stance on our very last dance
Never the same way
Always turning up a level
