Photograph

12 Stones

Fear falls hard like rain again Washing over me You say nothing will ever change What do I believe?

You fall deep inside again Nothing left to see Weakness fills your heart again You put it to rest

Forfeit everything
'Cause you were never strong enough
Close my eyes again
And pray that life will not give up

I try to see your face again A photograph for me Your voice calling out again Nothing left for me

You try to find your place again Waiting just to breathe Weakness takes your heart again You put it to rest

Locked inside again Locked inside again Locked inside again

Forfeit everything
'Cause you were never strong enough
Close my eyes again
And pray that life will not give up

Forfeit everything
'Cause you were never strong enough
Close my eyes again
And pray that life will not give up

Did you forget about the things I said? Fight the lies inside your head Deny those who try to bring you down

Kill the pain and emptiness
Find a love and lose yourself
Without this life, you're just a memory

Locked inside again Locked inside again Locked inside again

Forfeit everything
'Cause you were never strong enough
Close my eyes again
And pray that life will not give up

Forfeit everything

'Cause you were never strong enough Close my eyes again And pray that life will not give up