Menefreghista

13 ENGINES

Go on now or be still
Your monkey don't know that it's trainer lies
You're laughing out loud at what it is
You talk a good line but you'll still take the piss

You sit on the floor your legs splayed like a wolf
Laughing and joking in your way
She watches you from the other side of the room
She wonders just where you've gotten to
She's waiting for you to reveal yourself

Do you remember me in the phone booth
Drunken and lost in someone's mouth
Do you remember me with my hat on
The night that Harry tried to punch me out
You were waiting for me to reveal meyself

And there's a warm breeze blowing from the east
Menefreghista, do you remember?

I remember the first time I saw your band
The singer pulled up in a white convertible
But now you're gone you moved to the suburb
And I'm still here like I was
We're waiting for it to reveal itself
