

I can no longer see
Where chaos ends and I begin
It is cold, it is dark and there is no return
With my back against the wall
I stare into abyss

Endless fervent
Emptiness
Blessed death
The haunting agony of mortality
Dreading eternity
Depths of Infinite despair
The gasps resonate beyond these walls

Death
Breathing life
Death
Breathing death

Death
Breathing life
Death
Breeding death

I dreamt I was a cloud
Rid of human form where no light shines
Wake up to noxious walls and the stench of decay
Bloated faces hold grotesque expressions
Their bulging eyes sightlessly staring
Prayers flung
Heavenward
All to no avail

Triumphus mortis
