

Caged

Barren again with an illusion of the possibility of closure
Calm to panic in an instant
Will it ever come to be consistently bearable?
Organically against the grain of everything
Will we pause or banish them?
Setting them free

Will their lives be enough?
Fiending
Will they fuss or just hush?
Choking on blood
Seeking for their grasp to give up
Seeping through their actions
Discussed
Thrusted to dust

Stacking them up to wring them through bullshit
Lacking the love, the passions been ruined
Hacking the trunks of life's pleasures, losing
Hammered to some, indifferent to using
Stacking them up to wring them through bullshit
Lacking the love, the passions been ruined
Hacking the trunks of life's pleasures, losing
Hammered to some, indifferent to using
Stacking them up to wring them through bullshit
Lacking the love, the passions been ruined
Hacking the trunks of life's pleasures, losing
Hammered to some, indifferent to using

Now I'd love to put you down
Now I'd love to just put you down
Instead you choose to run your mouth
You draw the line but your denial defiled
Reville as you press away

As you press my patience (Patience)
I can't wait to fill the space with all you kept me from and I don't want it quick
I just want to take it all from you
I just want to
I just want to
(I just want to)
(I just want to)
(I just want to)
(I just want to)
