

Kill To Live For You

156/Silence

I never tried so hard
Or gone so far

I built myself to be deserving of your attention
Did I even mention?
How blind I'd been to your selfish indifferences
To my own inconsistencies
Will make me enter an early grave

Did I even mention?
How blind I had been

My own inconsistencies
Left me begging for your philosophies

Distraught by these false lines you taught
I followed you like a dog
Without a second thought
Don't you know that I was

Desperate for your affection
It's become an affliction
The satisfaction
I crave
