

Filthy Love Of Fire

16volt

Detest belief of wanting who shelled it out you see haven't faced it yet an amounting need throw a soul out so tell a lore clenching it between the teeth a guiding light makes so bright i don't see impails thee nailing emptier shell hailing holding up higher waiting drowning a feeling hailing impailing thee wailing the emptiest hell hailing holding it higher drowning this feeling you the understanding do you see with me too dip an empty head in dip that empty head in reaching like the sun it keeps on pulling the same souls living the same thing giving out once in my head a flick of flint igniting one's self sting this hint can it be take to eternity if you come outagain take this heaven a filthy love of fireopening light bringing hail a look at one's self hurts the eyes to
