

You Run

16volt

I thought you'd fall away
But now you've come again
Fractured memories
Risen from the dead

All the times that you never came here
Left me dead with nothing to do
All the the things I wanted to say
Tear me up when you went away

You run
And I have to stay
Cause you say alone
Is where you're home
And I'm much better on my own
You run
And I have to say
Did you know you're a gift
That I couldn't get
All along I just thought
You and I were meant to be

It's all inside my head
Everything is dead
It's so hard to forget
When I have this regret

All the times you never came home
Left me here with nothing to know
All the things that I wanted to do
Tears me up and then I forget you

You run
And I have to stay
Cause you say alone
Is where you're home
And I'm much better on my own
You run
And I have to say
Did you know you're a gift
That I couldn't get
All along I just thought
You and I were meant to be

You run
And I have to stay
Cause you say alone
Is where you're home
And I'm much better on my own
You run
And I have to say
That I couldn't get
All along I just thought
You and I were meant to be
