

Reflections From The Looking Glass

1910 Fruitgum Company

I'm gonna take you to a place where everyone is treated the same,
Don't worry 'bout them asking of your creed, nationality
or name.
In this place it doesn't matter if you're wrong or right
Or if you can hear and talk and have normal sight.

In this place you get what you lacked on earth,
Of pleasure and leisure and love
A new rebirth.
It doesn't take long and believe me you'll get there
fast,
And once you get there bury the past.

Once you get there there'll be no need of escape.
You do what you want and what you want you just take.
No crying, hatered, greed or shame,
No reputation to develop no need to acquire fame.

In this place you get what you lacked on earth,
Of pleasure and leisure and love
A new rebirth.
It doesn't take long and believe me you'll get there
fast,
And once you get there bury the past
