

A World Without You

1927

A world without you never feels the same
I've been a dreamer since the day you came
I wanna hold you now and keep you near
I dream and sigh and then you disappear
I wanna sit beneath a tree and stare
Run my fingers through your hair

I can't stand these words
What can I say to make it okay
I can't stand the thought of one more-ore day
In a world where I can't hold you I can't stay

I sit and wonder how you're feelin' now
I wonder is it love and don't know how
I want to throw these silly words away
And save the talkin' for another day
I wanna touch your heart, see if it skips
I want to put my finger on your lips

I can't stand these words
What can I say-ay to make it okay
I can't stand the thought of one more-ore day
In a world where I can't hold you I can't stay

I can't stand the thought
Can't ease this pain
I can't stand these words
Can't ease this pain
I can't stand the thought of one more-ore day
I can't sleep
I can't eat
I can't ease this pain

I can't stand these words
What can I say to make it okay
I can't stand the thought of one more-ore day
In a world where I can't hold you I can't stay
In a world where I can't hold you I can't stay

What can I say
To make it okay
What can I say
