

Just Calling

28 Days

Hey I'm just calling to remind you of our agreement
You said you'll love me anyway that's all I say
Now I'm feeling
And it's all to change

Some things change
Now I'm seeing
You think you're so hot while I'm happy and your alibi
Cos I'm leaving

See I don't care just what you say
You lied to me anyway
You lied to me
You lied to me
I don't care what just what you say
You lied to me anyway
You lied to me

And now it's up to you to decide who
Or which way you're leaning
And who'll be there to bump you up
When we've had enough
I'll be able to see there
You'll probably never change

And now I'm grieving Because I can't be bothered banging on this door that's barely hanging
And I make peace there

See I don't care just what you say
You lied to me anyway
You lied to me
You lied to me
I don't care what just what you say
You lied to me anyway
You lied to me
You lied to me

See I don't care just what you say,
Because you lied to me anyway, anyway, yeah
Say yeah

I said you lied to me

I don't care just what you say
You lied to me anyway
You lied to me
You lied to me
I don't care what just what you say
You lied to me anyway
You lied to me
You lied to me

I don't care just what you say,
Because you lied to me anyway, anyway, yeah
Yeah yeah

I said you lied to me
