2AM Club

Girl I'm cleaning up these loose ends
That you left on my mattress.
I'm gettin' rid of all your makeup
And these fake eyelashes
And all the pictures that I hung up
You can take 'em if you want
I know you like clearance sales
Well this gon' be the biggest one

Don't try to plead your case now
Please just find your way out
Cause someone's on her way now

Out of sight, out of mind
Finally leaving you behind
I'm doing the one thing that makes sense
And getting rid of all the evidence

A million ways to say goodbye
Of all the things that I could try
I'm doing the one thing that makes sense
And getting rid of all the evidence

I cleaned the bathroom with your toothbrush
The one you won't be making use of
I even took the time to wipe down
Every single thing that you touched

But these sexy pictures on my cell phone
I'm gonna go ahead and keep those
In case you try to put me on
These are gonna get me off

Don't try to plead your case now
Please just find your way out
Cause someone's on her way now

Out of sight, out of mind
Finally leaving you behind
I'm doing the one thing that makes sense
And getting rid of all the evidence

A million ways to say goodbye
Of all the things that I could try
I'm doing the one thing that makes sense
And getting rid of all the evidence

Tell your girl: come pick up this box that I just went through Every time I see your clothes I think of how they fit you
So I put them in with everything that's gonna remind me
The one I thought would never front I gotta put behind me
I thumbed through all the pictures we once had Thought you were the one now you just one I untagged
Ever since we're not together everything is hella clear
I'm getting rid of all the evidence that you were ever here

Out of sight, out of mind

Finally leaving you behind
I'm doing the one thing that makes sense
And getting rid of all the evidence

A million ways to say goodbye
Of all the things that I could try
I'm doing the one thing that makes sense
And getting rid of all the evidence
