

Raindrops

2Baba

Just like rain drops falling from my eyes
Just like my tear drops falling from the sky
It is like a blessing, a blessing in disguise
That we fail to realize
Now I have to pay the price, pay the price
See, young man, be careful and think it twice
Before you choose to use, before you choose to use, use your device
So you don't have rain drops falling from my eyes
Only it is a blessing in disguise
Oh what a sacrifice, a sacrifice
I see them

Dem a writing stuff about me
Most of them I know they only want to destroy me
Burn them, them no get another story
But out of my fame, they want to claim say I am holy See I dare them
These girls are very deadly
But before I say so, I check am, nobody with me
I love them, cos my pikin is them, and my little sensy
And I respect them
All them wey bin advise me, wey talk to me truthfully
See I no have no time for no hypocrisy
Have no time for the people that treat dem a minds in my matter eh
I know some people will say some things that will cut like a knife
They make to want to dey mara eh
Making me feel like a murderer

Just like rain drops falling from my eyes
Just like my tear drops falling from the sky
It is like a blessing, a blessing in disguise
That we fail to realize
Now I have to pay the price, pay the price
See, young man, be careful and think it twice
Before you choose to use, before you choose to use, use your device
So you don't have rain drops falling from my eyes
Only it is a blessing in disguise
Oh what a sacrifice, a sacrifice
I see them

See, what is it you want from me
What is your expectation
What is it you feel
What is it you think about me
What is your imagination
How do you see me
As I am God's creation, but I am not the only one
I say we plenty, and there is no more equal one
We heading to the same destination
So just be living your life yeah (living your life yeah)
Doing your thing uh uh (doing your thing wo wo wo)
Make some people breathe (breathe, breathe)
Live and let live (live and let live)
And as you go out of my place, make you count yours
I hope that it's because your will and start to close your doors
As we go, just take some time to check your flows
Turn out and use another door

Just like rain drops falling from my eyes
Just like my tear drops falling from the sky
It is like a blessing, a blessing in disguise
That we fail to realize
Now I have to pay the price, pay the price
See, young man, be careful and think it twice
Before you choose to use, before you choose to use, use your device
So you don't have rain drops falling from my eyes
Only it is a blessing in disguise
Oh what a sacrifice, a sacrifice
I see them
