

Pieces of Me

3 Doors Down

And open door
I can't walk throw
Cause I can't live behind
All these things that I knew
Fear all gone and I've loss track
I've all the ones on love in turn my back
Inside my self
They world I say
It couldn't be the true got in the way

But tommorow will be and brand new day
And I hope that it brings the chance there are forgot to take
And I know the so much I can be
If I can be stronger enough to throw away these we pieces of me

These tired eyes and hollow skin
And they remind me over the place I've been
I feel so far, I still so close
It feels like I'm living inside my own ghost

But tommorow will be and brand new day
And I hope that it brings the chance there are forgot to take
And I know the so much I can be
If I can be stronger enough to throw away these we pieces of me

I've gone to sleep in heaven
Only to wake in hell
If I'm gonna make the throw these now
I'm have to save my self

Cause..

But tommorow will be and brand new day
And I hope that it brings the chance there are forgot to take
And I know the so much I can be
If I can be stronger enough to throw away these we pieces of me
Ooooh
