

Last night, we let the
Liquor talk, I can't remember
Everything we said, but we
Said it all, you told me that you
Wished I was somebody you
Never met, but baby, baby
Somethin's tellin' me this ain't
Over yet

Yo, you can't take back what the booze has done
Made a good relationship an abusive one
You've only had a few, you ain't super drunk
And still, this is the person that you've become Yo, that's fucked up, yeah, puttin' hands on a
Loved one, thinkin' it's okay 'cause you drunk, but Maybe that's the person you are deep down
When you're drunk, it's just givin' you the balls to be uncut
Ayy, this is serious
I'm seein' a side of you that I clearly missed
It's got you tellin' me everything you really think
There's one thing I'm never toleratin', period
And that's a line that you cross with joy
Where we go from here, you ain't got no choice
It crossed over that border, damn, I didn't wanna
Have to do it, but you forced my hand, it all ended

Last night, we let the
Liquor talk, I can't remember
Everything we said, but we
Said it all, you told me that you
Wished I was somebody you
Never met, but baby, baby
Somethin's tellin' me this ain't
Over yet

Six months gone, now you're beggin' for me back
Bashin' on the door, givin' everythin' you have Tellin' me to think about the memories we had
But they're so toxic, I've got no energy for that
And you swear to God, this ain't who you usually are Goin' through somethin' that was truthfully hard
But the damage on the inside is much more permanent
And so much worse than a bruise or a scar
Hatin' on the fact that this is in my memory
Broken my heart while wishin' you respect me
Always stayin' silent, walkin' on these eggshells
Try to be invisible and think it'll protect me
Such a big mess, now stuck with these nerves
Don't wanna think about it and it fucks with me worse
Wanna move on, but nothing'll work
You think it'd be obvious that love shouldn't hurt
And your mouth keeps sayin' that you love me so much
Your actions are tellin' me you hate me as a person
But the fact that I still took you back, though
Really got me wonderin' if maybe I deserve it

Oh, baby, last night

No way it was our
Last night
I know you said this
Time you really weren't comin'
Back again, but baby, baby
Somethin's tellin' me this ain't
Over yet, no way it was our
Last night
No way it was our
Last night
