

Making Up For Lost Time

.38 Special

No one can change my frame of mind
Too many moments I've been marking time
Waiting for someone somewhere to catch me
Tired of pretending with someone else
Lost and afraid to be myself
You been the only woman who gets me

Oh, we're leaving those dark days far behind
Baby, we're making up for lost time

Now we're living the dreams we have wasted
In a life with somebody else
Just can't stop dreaming the love we are making
You're mine and I'm helping myself
This time around
This time around

Don't try to shift my point of view
No one could sway my attitude
I've waited forever for love at the right time

Oh, that past is a blur, the future shines
Baby, we're making up for lost time

Now we're living the dreams we have wasted
In a life with somebody else
Just can't stop dreaming the love we are making
You're mine and I'm helping myself
This time around
This time around

No time living for yesterday
This is our moment, we're here to stay
No looking back, no regrets
We're moving on
We're making up for lost time

We're making up for lost time
Now we're living the dreams we have wasted
In a life with somebody else
Just can't stop dreaming the love we are making
And now we're making up for lost time

Making up for lost time
Making up for lost
Making up for lost
Making up for lost time
Time
