Ayo, it's crazy 'cause I know her family background
Oh, the brother doing twenty on his way back down
Her mom's and pop smoke, can't put the crack down
I was proud to see her wearing that cap and that gown
It's foul, 'cause she been molested as a child
And she told me, "Spesh, it's been less stress since you been 'round"
She made it through school and I dropped out
Me and her got close 'cause I used to sell rocks at her pops house
Right, I was fifteen, she was fifteen
She went to school everyday, I was tryna get cream
I bought her outfits and I bought her new kicks
'Cause her mom's and pop smoke, ain't never buy her shit (Right)
I was her financial support system
Slowly was introduced to the court system
'Cause I was doing wrong, yeah, I was doing wrong
But she still stayed strong while I was gone, holding on

She tell me that I should calm it down

She know I got family members that need food
She also know that these streets is cruel
She confused, 'cause her older brother got twenty
Not 'cause he killed somebody, 'cause he was getting money
It's funny, now I'm headed down the same path
Older brother was a boss, I'm making the same cash
She know this cocaine thing ain't gon' last
But she love me, so she start bringing them things back
Like, chirp that phone, she used to help me with my homework
Now she help me bring work back home (Back home)

And blow smoke on my plane, on yo' boat
You know I sell coke, I'm from a broken home
The last thing I wanted to do was go home broke
So, I had to go out and get it
I'm on a mission, you by my side, no bullshittin'
Days I was pitchin' you was never bitchin'
Only thing you had to do was clean up the kitchen
Strong black lady, strong black lady
How you made it through school is crazy, the shit amazed me
You and me together only makes sense
But to deal with a nigga like me, it takes strength
