

Modified our circuits
But I can't see a purpose
Watching all this potential do nothing but desert us
Insatiable furnace
Burning up our surplus
Watching all essential life become another servant

Dehumanized upon a shell
We came to bleed it dry
Obsessed with divine wealth
Divide and multiply
No care for mother's health
Consume the whole supply
Liberate, destroy yourself
I came to watch you die

It will be there when the tides rise
You will hear it when your God cries
You will see it when the sun dies
Upon the altars of change
It will be there when the tides rise
You will hear it when your God cries
You will see it when the sun dies
Upon the altars of change

Colonized, we infest
Like we're alien insects
Watching existential lies become so fucking perfect
Evolution repressed
By our backwards contest
Breeding our torrential demise as we come to this edge

Dehumanized upon a shell
We came to bleed it dry
Obsessed with divine wealth
Divide and multiply
No care for mother's health
Consume the whole supply
Liberate, destroy yourself
I came to watch you die

It will be there when the tides rise
You will hear it when your God cries
You will see it when the sun dies
Upon the altars of change
It will be there when the tides rise
