

Afterthought

40 Below Summer

Why am I still here
Completely uninspired
Will I ever find the meaning in this life
It's weathered over time
And I can't find the pattern
And all I see is a dark and empty sky

I'm reaching out
Take my hand
And I can't stop falling
Take my hand
You've let me down
Once again
And I can't stop falling
I can't stop falling

It's drifted out of line
And I'm so disconnected
From the source
A deepening divide
This dissolves into entropy
Guess this life wasn't meant for me
I'm stuck inside the past
And I'm trapped behind the glass

I'm reaching out
Take my hand
And I can't stop falling
Take my hand
You've let me down
Once again
And I can't stop falling
I can't stop falling

It all feeds (everything feeds)
It all cries (everything cries)
It all bleeds (everything bleeds)
It all dies (and everything dies)
It all burns (everything burns)
Into decay (and it decays)
It's all wrong (everything's wrong)
And nothing is right

I'm reaching out
Take my hand
And I can't stop

I'm reaching out
Take my hand
And I can't stop falling
Take my hand
You've let me down
Once again
And I can't stop falling
I can't stop falling
Falling
