

She Is The Atmosphere

40 Below Summer

And here I lay drifting on the water
And I'm feeling you like yesterday
And as we get closer to each other
I feel like I can breathe again

She's the world to me
The one who set me free and
She is my everything
The only thing that keeps me here and
She is the song I sing
She's the one who lives inside my dreams
She's my everything
The oxygen I need, my atmosphere

So here we are underneath the summer
Without her I am half of me
The reflection of her inside the mirror
Has made me feel alive again

She's the world to me
The one who set me free and
She is my everything
The only thing that keeps me here and
She is the song I sing
She's the one who lives inside my dreams
She's my everything
The oxygen I need, my atmosphere

Me and you for a million light years
Me and you for a million light years
Me and you for a million light years
Me and you forever I swear

Chills down my spine electrified
Every time I look into your eyes
Watch me brake your embrace
Let me know that this will never fade

Me and you for a million light years
Me and you for a million light years
Me and you for a million light years
Me and you forever I swear

Home, it feels like home
Here inside
The echo of you heartbeat next to mine
It's like I'm yours
This won't change
My oxygen without you I can't breathe

Me and you for a million light years
Me and you for a million light years
Me and you for a million light years
Me and you

She is my everything
My atmosphere

She is my everything
My atmosphere

She is the world to me
The one who set me free and
She is my everything
The only thing that keeps me here and
She is the song I sing
She's the one who lives inside my dreams
She's my everything
The oxygen I need, my atmosphere

She is my everything
Me and you for a million light years
She is my everything
Me and you for a million light years
She is my everything
Me and you for a million light years
She is my everything
My atmosphere
