

Same Guy Different Body

54-40

In a club in a Kingston town
We were playing a gig to a rocking crowd
There was plenty of booze to go all around
The manager was happy because the show sold out

This night it was kind of wild
People getting drunk falling down the aisles
I saw the bouncers grab a guy and beat him up
And leave him bloody in behind
That ain't right

Man oh man we've seen it before
A really drunk guy who cannot score
Let me introduce you to
Same guy different body

Seen this guy almost every night
Gets too drunk and he wants to fight
The kind of guy we ignore
That's right

The gig was over and the night was through
And the punters went home it was quarter after two
So I left the dressing room like I always do
And I come face to face with this really large dude

Playing my cool in front of this fool
And we both could tell and we both sure new
One of us was drunk and he didn't have a clue
So he turned all dark didn't like my attitude

He wanted to fight me right there and then
And I said holy fuck here we go again
No point even reasoning
With the same guy different body

See this guy every night
Big man this guy but a child inside
Got too drunk and he thinks he's fly
Same guy different body

Now he wants to fight me
This dude's gotta get a life, see
Been renamed for all to see
Same guy different body

Take a breath to cool my jets look, around this room
Nobody I know is anywhere near, not even the crew
Just me and this really large dude
So I have to talk my way through
And by the end I'm singing at his wedding
And I feel sorry for the woman that he'll choose

Nothing you can do
When they show up full of booze
Let me introduce you to
Same guy different body
