

The Wind Down

54-40

Ah, come on now can it really be that hard
Finding what you want, what you mean
I think you need to wind down, let the day go by Open up your mind and just be
If I told you love was still blind

Don't go to the moon without me
Don't look at the sun with shadowy eyes
Don't ride on the rainbow
If I told you love was still blind

How would it feel to let go of intention
Let go of perceptions and just be
I think you know what I mean
A change in direction, change the reflection that you see
If I told you love was still blind

You don't remember me do you
My soul paid your rent
Now it's time to wind down
