

The Lesser of Two Upheavals

'68

Your ghost is all I have
I haven't got the cash but I'm still guilty of the crime
I've clicked my heels three times but when I open my eyes
I had split myself in half
Impulse, pace, flesh

If I just knew better
I could be a man
If I just knew better
I could be a man
If I just knew better
I could be a man
If just looked better
Like you look better

"Never stop.", I said, "Never stop!"
I took the hook that had no bait
I wish you were in my head, that would save me a world of pain
I never underestimate pain

I've lived a thousand lives, but I only wanted one
This is the wildest west and you are second to none

If I just knew better
I could be a man
If I just knew better
I could be a man
If I just knew better
I could be a man
If just looked better
Like you look better

If I just knew better
I could be a man
If I just knew better
I could be a man
If I just knew better
I could be a man
If just looked better
Like you look better

If I just knew better
I could be a man
If I just knew better
I could be a man
If I just knew better
I could be a man
If just looked better
Like you look better

If I just knew better
I could be a man
If I just knew better
I could be a man
If I just knew better
I could be a man
If just looked better

Like you look better
