

And I can understand your hesitation
But you can't understand mine
And I'm hoping you hear me
Because I know you are blind
And I want to leave here tomorrow
But I really should leave today

I can take you so far
But you take my hand away
Hey maybe, just maybe
I should know my part again
If they take your crown away
Is that all that makes you king?

If they take your crown away
If they take your crown away
If they take your crown away
Is that really all that makes you king?

I am the brightest of black and white
I am the brightest of black and white
I am the brightest of black and white
I am the brightest of black and white
I am the brightest of black and white
I am the brightest of black and white
I am the brightest of black and white
I am the brightest of black and white
I am the brightest of black and white
I am the brightest of black and white
I am the brightest of black and white
I am the brightest of black and white
