

What You Feed

'68

I said, "You better look away"
You said, the look up on my face said it all without a sound
I said, "I wish there was an alternate plan but the sun is coming down."
I cannot understand this place
I cannot understand, I said what I mean

Well, maybe I'm alone or maybe you're here
Or maybe it's both
I disappear into the night to watch it bleed

I said, "I wish you were a war"
I said, "I wish I could believe in the sound of never letting go"
You said, "I wish I had the words, to be heard around the world"
"Love is in the walls I believe it
Take cover

You said, "I wish I was away"
I said, "I wish I could respond"
You said the silence is the death that makes us bleed

Well, maybe I'm alone or maybe you're here
Or maybe it's both
I disappear into the night to watch it bleed

I said, "I wish you were a war"
I said, "I wish I could believe in the sound of never letting go"
You said, "I wish I had the words, to be heard around the world"
"Love is in the walls I believe it
Take cover

I said, "I wish you were a war"
I said, "I wish I could believe in the sound of never letting go"
You said, "I wish I had the words, to be heard around the world"
"Love is in the walls I believe it
Take cover