Fall Out

6cyclemind

I know that it won't be the same tonight
I know that I can't have you to make it alright, alright

Just pick up the pieces from you
So I can hold you tight
And you don't have to worry for what I might do

Because of you I live my life
I've watched the rainfall through the night
But I know you don't mind

There's nothing left of you inside my mind
I know I just can't have you, so I will say goodbye

Walking through this dark cold night
I felt my tongue turn dry
I'll try to ease the pain you left inside

Because of you I live my life
I've watched the rainfall through the night
But I know you don't mind

Please give me some time
So I could touch you
Please give me some time
So I could hold you

Because of you I live my life
I've watched the rainfall through the night
But I know you don't mind

Because of you I live my life
I've watched the rainfall through the night
But I know you don't mind

Because of you I live my life
I've watched the rainfall through the night
But I know you don't mind
