

You can't save me, but I wonder if it ever gets better
Drives me crazy how you just went and found someone better
You're with him now but I still feel like you and I tethered
I will die before I ever let go, I can't ever

Feel like I'm on the run, demons are always on me
Guess that's why I never liked being lonely
Best friend turned to homicide, gun smoking
Always had another bitch aligned, that's lowkey

But you know you were the only one that I would ever fuck, for real
Always knew we'd never last in my gut, for real
Guess I'll leave you in the past where I'm stuck, for real
Like fuck, for real

Already died inside, no you cannot revive me
I was never one to be great with timing
But time seem to stop when you're beside me
And ever since you left, I've felt like dying

You can't save me, but I wonder if it ever gets better
Drives me crazy how you just went and found someone better
You're with him now but I still feel like you and I tethered
I will die before I ever let go, I can't ever

You can't save me, but I wonder if it ever gets better
Drives me crazy how you just went and found someone better
You're with him now but I still feel like you and I tethered
I will die before I ever let go, I can't ever
