

Temptation, temptation, I'm stuck
Damn you really got me on one
Even when I said it's all done
Lies fading, truth crawls up
Current thing come to a halt
You was in my back pocket, had you kept in a vault
Nah, this shit ain't ever sweet, it ain't a flex, not at all
Thinking 'bout my ex, flying in a jet, noddin' off

You always liked to be in the way
You fine with playing them games
But I don't even relate
Now that I got my baby, you wanna see my in pain
Already blew through your chances, what made you think it would change?
And now you promising everything? Sorry but I'm okay
Now you should be saving energy, take that shit to the bank
Don't even wanna think, couple drinks right to the face
Blunts rolled up with stank, my moms think that's a shame
Really hate everything I became, yeah
And the old me look at me like I'm a stranger
I always knew that this shit would put me in danger
I just gave my heart 'cause the soul was too much to wager
And now you look at me sideways
Always knew that this was high stakes
Excuse me, a lot on my plate
You want me to change but I can't
Long road ahead, you not a part of plans
I would do you wrong in the end
Call it what you want
I would call it karma again
Long road ahead, you not a part of plans
I would do you wrong in the end
Call it what you want
I would call it karma again

Temptation, temptation, I'm stuck
Damn you really got me on one
Even when I said it's all done
Lies fading, truth crawls up
Current thing come to a halt
You was in my back pocket, had you kept in a vault
Nah, this shit ain't ever sweet, it ain't a flex, not at all
Thinking 'bout my ex, flying in a jet, noddin' off

Temptation, temptation, I'm stuck
