

Give me songs that I know how to sing and
Give me words I can speak
Give me religion that I might believe in Show me life's mysteries

I lift my eyes to the sea and beyond that
Which I can understand
Show me your heart that I believe in some miracles
But I don't know where to start

And the truth is I'm a seeker and I don't wanna live in vain
If God is looking down from a rainbow 2000 years may go
And everything will be the same
If God is looking down with a pale face from up in his high place
Playing his favorite game
Then I know I'll be living in vain, I will live in vain

When I ask you don't give what I'm asking
And when I search I can't find
I don't know where to fit in and where I can find my place
And I've never seen your face

I lift my eyes to the sea and beyond that
Which I can understand
Show me your heart that I believe in some miracles
But I don't know where to start

And the truth is we're all seekers and we don't wanna live in vain
If God is looking down from a rainbow 2000 years may go
And everything will be the same
If God is looking down with a pale face from up in his high place
Playing his favorite game
Then I know I'll be living in vain, I don't wanna live in vain
I don't, I don't, I don't wanna live in vain

If God is looking down
Just playing his favorite game

If God is looking down from a rainbow 2000 years may go
And everything will be the same
If God is looking down with a pale face from up in his high place
I know I'll be living in vain, I will live in vain
