

Can You

7eventh Time Down

Tossing in my sleep, haunted by the memories I keep
I'm overwhelmed, the pain and the guilt, will it ever leave
My friends keep telling me, "Try to sweep it underneath"
All of my dirt, every heart that I've hurt, It's impossible

Can you fix me, can you make me holy
Can you
I know I'm dirty can you make me worthy
Can you
Pieces of me I lay in your hands
Can you, can you, can you, fix me

The thorn in my side keeps me awake every night
But I won't revive the sin that has died, you're my victory
I have tasted the truth, and my heart is thirsty for you
I'm overwhelmed by you, and all of the things you do

Can you fix me, can you make me holy
Can you
I know I'm dirty can you make me worthy
Can you
Pieces of me I lay in your hands
Can you, can you, can you, can you

I know I'm wounded, I know I'm scarred
Can you still keep me from falling apart
I'm overwhelmed by you
I know I'm wounded I know I'm scarred
And all of the things you do
Can you, can you, can you

Can you fix me, can you make me holy
Can you
I know I'm dirty can you make me worthy
Can you
Pieces of me I lay in your hands
Can you, can you

Can you fix me, can you make me holy
Can you
I know I'm dirty can you make me worthy
Can you
Pieces of me I lay in your hands
Can you, can you, can you, can you

I know I'm wounded, I know I'm scarred
Can you still keep me from falling apart
I'm overwhelmed by you
I know I'm wounded I know I'm scarred
And all of the things you do
Can you, can you, can you, fix me
