

Don't Forget

7eventh Time Down

When fear is paralyzing
And you can barely breathe
When chaos and confusion
Drive you to your knees

Right there in the darkness
With nothing left to pray
Just lift your eyes and see it
Help is on the way

Even surrounded
It's not over yet

Don't forget who's writing your story
Don't forget what's always been true
When the fight don't seem fair
And the end is unclear
Don't forget who's walking with you

He the god goes before you
Yet always by your side
He's never been defeated
Never been surprised

It's in our surrender
Lord let your will be done
There's gonna be a victory
Whatever is to come

Even surrounded
It's not over yet

Don't forget who's writing your story
Don't forget what's always been true
When the fight don't seem fair
And the end is unclear
Don't forget who's walking with you

He's walking with you in the fire
He's walking with you in the pain
He's walking with you in the questions
And the things you can't explain
He's walking with you in the valleys
When you're drowning in your grief
Just take a breath and know he's working
Even when it's hard to see

Don't forget who's writing your story
Don't forget what's always been true
When the fight don't seem fair
And the end is unclear
Don't forget, no

Don't forget who's writing your story
Don't forget what's always been true
When the fight don't seem fair

Don't forget who's walking with you

No, no

Who's walking with you

No, no

Who's walking with you
