

Miserable Together

93FEETOFSMOKE

You're the light that shines right through my dark past
And you're the light that guides me to the right path
And I know you're holding back tears night and day
And you know I'm real enough to tell you that pain won't go away

Let's just be here miserable together
I already know nothing in this life gets better
So let's just be confused as fuck together
That's the only thing I've found that makes things better

Let's just be here miserable together
That's the only thing I've found that makes things better

You're the only thing that makes things better
So let's just stay here fighting for forever
I guess our brains are fucked, least we're together
I can't shut the door despite the weather

Sunrise will come round again
Sometimes that's the only thing that keeps me here
Happens that we always go and lose our heads
Only if the footsteps could restart again

Can't tell if I'm best for anything I have
I've been trying, I have, swear we'll work this out
