Curse

98 Degrees

Run away from my mind
But the pain never stops
I always feel the same

I can't find, nowhere to go
My road still looks unknown
Stuck in a loop

It makes me feel by far less of goal
Walking and run and drive, but less of point

The people come and goes, but no one still true
When talk about fake friends, I have much more

So life, it's always dark
In the place now I'm at
And I, wonder all the time
If it's everywhere like here in that

Run away from the pain
But it injuries never cure
I know it's such a curse
Chasing me everywhere I go
I can't seem to escape, here with the future fear

It makes me feel, by far, less of goal
Walking and run and drive, but less of point

The people come and goes, but no one still true
When talk about fake friends, I have much more

So life, it's always dark
In the place now I'm at
And I, wonder all the time
If it's everywhere like here in that
