

Miracle

A Day to Remember

If you could only feel the way that I feel
Ready for the war to come my way
Yeah, I struggled so I know what it takes
The pressure only builds 'til it breaks
If you could only feel the way that I feel

You might think it's something spiritual

But I'm betting on the "right here, right now"
To Hell with all the "someday, somehow"
I've waited long enough
I've waited long enough
(Don't need a miracle)
Right here, right now
To Hell with all the "someday, somehow"
I've waited long enough
I've waited long enough
(Don't need a miracle)
You might think it's something spiritual
But I don't need a fucking miracle

If you could only see the way that I see
You could find the faith to take the leap
It only took one shot to prove I'm not made of glass
There's no pain you could cause that won't eventually pass
If you could only see the way that I see

You'd be betting on the "right here, right now"
To Hell with all the "someday, somehow"
I've waited long enough
I've waited long enough
(Don't need a miracle)
To Hell with all the "someday, somehow"
I've waited long enough
I've waited long enough
(Don't need a miracle)
You might think it's something spiritual
But I don't need a fucking miracle

No weapon formed against me shall prosper
My will is stronger
Stronger
Wait

You might think it's something spiritual

But I'm betting on the "right here, right now"
To Hell with all the "someday, somehow"
I've waited long enough
I've waited long enough
(Don't need a miracle)
To Hell with all the "someday, somehow"
I've waited long enough
I've waited long enough
(Don't need a miracle)

You might think it's something spiritual
But I don't need a fucking miracle
