

Your Way With Words Is Through Silence

A Day to Remember

If actions spoke louder than words, you'd have made me deaf by now
You make it seem so easy to love me for who I really am, am

It'd break my heart, if we fell apart
It'd be so hard to let you go
It'd break my heart, if we fell apart
It'd be so hard to watch you go

So let's not dwell on all those things we should've said
As piece by piece I can pick you up off my floor (off my floor)
So let's not dwell on all those things we should've said
As piece by piece I can pick you up off my floor (off my floor)

It's so crazy how it'd make my week just to hear them mention your name
Is it so hard to understand how you've got me right in the palm of your hand?

It'd break my heart, if we fell apart
It'd be so hard to let you go
It'd break my heart, if we fell apart
It'd be so hard to watch you go

So let's not dwell on all those things we should've said
As piece by piece I can pick you up off my floor (off my floor)
So let's not dwell on all those things we should've said
As piece by piece I can pick you up off my floor (off my floor)

You're first and foremost, you're all that's on my mind
Through the songs that I'll sing I'll give you my heart
You're first and foremost, you're all that's on my mind
Through the songs that I'll sing I'll give you my heart

So let's not dwell on all those things we should've said
As piece by piece I can pick you up off my floor
So let's not dwell on all those things we should've said
As piece by piece I can pick you up off my floor

So let's not dwell on all those things we should've said
As piece by piece I can pick you up off my floor (off my floor)
So let's not dwell on all those things we should've said
As piece by piece I can pick you up off my floor (off my floor)

(My floor
My floor
My floor
My floor)
