

Day Dreamer

A Faylene Sky

It's all clear to me now, I've seen the light.
Shine through the blackest of my nights.
I'm holding hope that our names echo throughout time.
Echo throughout time.

Daydreamer keep dreaming,
Find something to believe in.
I know you'll find a way out.
You'll find a way out.

Long do we wonder, ride on as the sunsets.
The sunsets.
How far we've come along.
To see there's nothing at the bottom.
History watches over our name.

Daydreamer keep dreaming,
Find something to believe in.
I know you'll find a way out.
You'll find a way out.
You'll find a way, make it reality.
Is this the day that you've been waiting for?

Tell me, tell me that it's over.
That my heart will be broken.
That my vision, oh god.
This will not cast us under.
I've seen, I've seen the light.
Shine through the blackest of my nights.
I'm holding hope (I'm holding hope)
That our names echo.

And our names echo, they echo throughout time. (2x)

Daydreamer keep dreaming,
Find something to believe in.
I know you'll find a way out.
You'll find a way out.
You'll find a way, make it reality.
Is this the day that you've been waiting for?
