

Hell Is Where The Heart Is

A Faylene Sky

So much hate in every one of us, I can see.
We're filled with it. We're filled with it, yeah!
I hate the hate that resides in me now.
The hate so heavy, so heavy it weighs me down.
It blinds me from the storm creating this war.

But now it's over and I can finally breathe.
While I'm lying here awake at night it's so clear to
me.
I'm right where I'm supposed to..

Hate burned a hole, inside of me. Yeah!
And it's dancing on my very soul.
What's left of it that is.
Yeah, I am a bitter man.

But now it's over and I can finally breathe.
While I'm lying here awake at night it's so clear to
me.
I'm right where I'm supposed to be.

I'll stay patient and though my minds racing.
Believe in only myself.
And I know there's nothing but brighter days coming.
And I'll welcome them into my life with arms wide open.
I'm ready to die, cause I've been chewed up and spit out so many times.
And I don't give a fk, cause I stand on my own.
You're gone and I can finally breathe.

Hell is your home now!

Cause I've been chewed up and spit out.
So much hate it every one of us, I can see.
We're filled with it, we're filled with it.
We're filled with it yeah!
