The long goodbye

A Girl Called Eddy

You stormed my winter palace You rid my heart of every bit of malice baby You're how I won the war Now your bags are packed Your walking out the door In every way There is nothing to say anymore

This is the long goodbye Maybe the tears will never dry This is the long goodbye

Take your records, leave me mine You're the one who said We lived it all on the borrowed time So, at the end of the day There was nothing to say anymore

This is the long goodbye Maybe the tears will never dry This is the long goodbye Leaving the past and you behind This is the long goodbye

Take a good look, make it last And when you've found the moment's passed Just remember that Nobody loved you like me Nobody loved you like me Nobody loved you like me Nobody loved you... like me

This is the long goodbye Maybe the tears will never dry This is the long goodbye Leaving the past and you behind This is the long goodbye I'm out of words, I'm out of time This is the long goodbye This is the long goodbye
