I've fixed my dwelling for the night Lights in pairs come passing by where I hide
I need some time now on my own
Leave my loneliness alone
To lick my wounds Night has found me just in time to help me close my eyes
one more time

Living a boy's adventure tale
In so many ways
Living a boy's adventure tale
For so many days
I'm living a boy's adventure tale Can't escape, if I wanted to
Living a boy's adventure tale
I may be dreaming but I feel awake

I've been lost in so many places
Seen the love in so many faces
A change of weather, the rain pours down
My head in hands, pressed to the ground
And where am I supposed to go now

Living a boy's adventure tale In so many ways Living a boy's adventure tale (aah) Living a boy's adventure tale a voice I hear Living a boy's adventure tale Singing a lullaby for me Living a boy's adventure tale Because of you Living a boy's adventure Oh you know it's true Living a boy's adventure tale In so many ways (aah) For so many days I love you. I love you So many ways
