I Wanted Too Much

A House

There was a time
I wanted too Much
And now's the time
I don't want anything

No point in crying
Over milk that's too rich
No point in dying
Over blood that's not spilled

I don't want children
I don't wanna have to raise them
I don't wanna be family man
Cos I know that I am

I don't want you
I don't wanna need you
I don't wanna love you
I don't wanna lose you

There was a place
We used to go
And now that place
Is overgrown

What you never had
You'll never have
And what you always missed
Because blood runs too rich

I don't want children
I don't wanna have to raise them
I don't wanna be family man
Cos I know that I am

I don't want you
I don't wanna need you
I don't wanna love you
I don't wanna lose you

I don't want you
I don't want you
I don't want you
I don't want you
I don't want you
I don't want you
