

Just Because

A House

Just because my world is different to yours
My hopes and dreams are just what they should be
Just because my thoughts are different to yours
I can hear you
Talk about me
Laughing at me
I have nothing to be ashamed of

Just because my love is difficult for you
How long will it take
For you to understand me
Just because your life is uninspired to me
You won't hear me
Talk about you
Laughing at you
I have nothing to be ashamed of
