

Now That I'm Sick

A House

Now that I'm sick
Will I ever feel well again
Now that I'm getting old
Will I ever retain my youth
Now that I'm angry
Will I ever be able to forgive again
Now that I feel threatened
Will I ever be able to live without fear

You know that I doubt it
And I doubt it
I doubt it very much
You know that I doubt it
And I doubt it
I doubt it very much

Now that I'm weak
Will I ever be able to stand up for myself
Now that I'm stupid
Will I ever be able to kill that mocking bird
Now that I'm hungry
Will I ever be able to afford to feed myself
Now that I'm poor

Can I ever live like those

You know that I doubt it
And I doubt it
I doubt it very much
You know that I doubt it
And I doubt it
I doubt it very much
Now that we care
Can we find it in our hearts
To give to those
Those who have not
Are we greedy, do we know it
And do we really care
Now that I'm angry
Angry, angry
Now that I'm sick
Now that I'm sick
Now that I'm sick
Sick, sick

You know that I doubt it
And I doubt it
I doubt it very much
You know that I doubt it
And I doubt it
I doubt it very much
