A Killer's Confession

It's not too late I'm ascending
It's not too late I'm ascending

Like it or not you are stuck where you are Take another step but you won't get far
Come to your demise
You're trapped inside your mind
Staying home keeps you safe
It keeps you separate And afraid
You're under mind control
You stay in your place
You do as you're told
You won't get me cause I see it
All the bullshit on a spoon and I won't eat it
Like it or not they want you defeated
So open your eyes and you will see it

In your mind you feel defeated
All these things you cannot see it
Believe and we are
If you let these things defeat you
Nothing in your life will change you
Believe and we are

It's not too late I'm ascending
For better or worse
I'm content from where I'm standing
It's not too late I'm ascending

My mind's slowly drifting
I can't hear you speaking
Drifting into the darkness
I am one
I cannot believe
That you choose not to see
The truth that's put in front of you
Or the truth that you see

It's not too late I'm ascending
For better or worse
I'm content from where I'm standing

In your mind you feel defeated
All these things you cannot see it
Believe and we are
If you let these things defeat you
Nothing in your life will change you
Believe and we are

It's not too late I'm ascending

It's not too late I'm ascending
