

Between Your Eyes

A Killer's Confession

I will be the gun between your eyes
I will be the gun between your eyes

Why can't you just face the fact that you
Have lost the war and now there's nothing for you
Karma's turned her gaze she's looking at you
For every evil deed seven times back on you

Cause I will be the gun between your eyes
And time will only tell when you will die
I'll be your jury and your only friend
Give your confession to me and I'll see you to the end
Cause I will be there when you finally die

I will be the gun between your eyes

Why can't you just let this be
Every corner that I look around
It's your face it's your face looking back at me
I have made my mistakes we all do
We all fall along the way
Just accept your past and accept your fate

Accept your fate
Accept your fate

I Will be the gun between your eyes
Accept your fate
I Will be the gun between your eyes
Accept your fate

I will be the gun between your eyes
And time will only tell when you will die
I'll be your jury and your only friend
Give your confession to me and I'll see you to the end
Because I will be there when you finally die

Die
Die
