

Numb

A Killer's Confession

All lies have come full circle
Your ignorance is all your own
You left me forsaken
You left me on my own

Now I've walked searching on a
Path too long
And on this road I can't go home

But the life of the damned
Has left in my hands
A world that's full of pain
One look from your eyes
And I realize that I am not the same
I can't explain
The man that I am
With this blood on my hands
The world succumbs
I have become so numb

I keep walking in circles
My penance is my own
My kindness is mistaken
It's just Another face I clone

Now I've walked searching on a
Path too long
And on this road I can't go home

But the life of the damned
Has left in my hands
A world that's full of pain
One look from your eyes
And I realize that I am not the same
I can't explain
The man that I am
With this blood on my hands
The world succumbs
I have become so numb

With every thousand tries that end with sorrow
Even when the sun doesn't rise there is tomorrow
To believe in demise will open your eyes
You will seek you will find
Just keep walking not afraid
Emptiness will find my way

But the life of the damned
Has left in my hands
A world that's full of pain
One look from your eyes
And I realize that I am not the same
I can't explain
The man that I am
With this blood on my hands
The world succumbs

I have become so numb (I can't explain the man that I am)
I have become so numb (I can't explain the man that I am)
I have become so numb (I can't explain the man that I am)
