

What is life
If you don't know what you are
Watching it all pass by
From a distant star

I can bring us together
Smash the world apart
Everything is forever
And we know you're not far

I will make you love
And I will take you away

I found time inside of this
Cold and broke and listless
I am the time collapsed inside
I am trapped inside your mind
Even through it all you belong to me
Even through it all
You belong to me

Weather through this cold
We were meant to be
Even through it all
We were meant to be

And you still belong to me
And you still belong to me
And you still belong to me
And you still belong to me
And you still belong to me
